

Job Specification: Technical Project Manager
Reports to: Head of Projects
Date Updated: 19th March 2026

Job Specification

As a Technical Project Manager, you'll be the technical heartbeat of our projects, leading teams that consistently deliver technical excellence.

Why Work With Us?

We're Light Fantastic, a world-class production partner delivering innovative live experiences that leave lasting impressions. From iconic venues to immersive experiences for global brands, our work is fast paced, exciting & no day is ever the same!

Our reputation for excellence means we're constantly growing and seeking enthusiastic, passionate, driven people with a thirst to succeed and exceed.

If you thrive in an environment where creativity and collaboration come together, you'll love it here. We're a fun team that values great relationships, supports each other daily, and tackles exciting projects with creative problem solving. We balance hard work with enjoyment, ensuring every day is as rewarding as it is productive.

Join us if you bring passion, expertise, own your role, and play for the team – you'll fit right in.

"Everyone deserves the opportunity to work on exciting & creative projects with great people - it's what our work is all about". Founder - Rob Myer

The Role: Technical Project Manager:

Are you the technical expert who thrives on the adrenaline of live events? The Tech PM role is pivotal in the lifecycle of our events. You won't just be managing schedules, you'll be taking the client's initial spark of an idea, you'll engineer the creative solution with our wider team and then lead the crew on site to bring it to life. You'll be at the heart of a diverse range of prestigious events, seamlessly integrating lighting, audio and video systems, ensuring our values of creativity, passion and excellence are upheld every step of the way.

You will be a confident communicator, comfortable dealing with a wide range of clients to understand what makes them tick, and what their objectives are for each project. You'll embrace every brief with both a creative and commercial eye to ensure we deliver great results whilst maintaining a healthy financial position.

We're looking for you to have deep expertise in one core discipline of live event technology (lighting, audio or video) with a broad, functional understanding of the others. You should have a strong background in system design and implementation, be comfortable producing technical plots and H&S paperwork, have some proficiency in AutoCAD & rental management software, and have the ability to

Job Specification: Technical Project Manager
Reports to: Head of Projects
Date Updated: 19th March 2026

Job Specification

handle budgets, manage logistics and produce accurate quotes that answer our client's needs. Whilst not essential, a full driving licence and a car would be highly beneficial.

If you are an enthusiastic technical leader looking for a role where you can truly own your projects and work with a team that cares, we want to hear from you.

Your Typical Workday:

- Maintain excellent client communications in person and remotely to build relationships and confidence
- Receive and analyse client briefs with a willingness to ask lots of questions
- Respond to client briefs with considered questions, suggestions and professional wisdom
- Work with other team members to develop responses to briefs, leveraging others technical excellence and growing others with your technical excellence
- Produce accurate and well thought out quotations and proposals that answer client pain-points effectively
- Work with clients to fine-tune briefs, ensuring we deliver world class results
- Lead and motivate technical teams across multiple projects
- Produce equipment specifications and technical documentation
- Lead onsite delivery, coordinating multiple technical departments
- Adapt swiftly to changing requirements while keeping teams aligned

"The best thing about working at Light Fantastic is the awesome projects we do and the great team we work alongside!" Chhaya Lad - CNC Operator

What We Think Is Important:

We believe in keeping our team happy and motivated. Join us and enjoy perks like personal growth opportunities, community building, great health benefits, fun team activities, and rewards for your hard work. It's all about thriving inside and outside work!

Community:

We celebrate birthdays and enjoy fun company days out that bring everyone together. Start most mornings with delicious pastries and fresh fruit. Ignite friendly competition through lively in-house pool tournaments.

Health & Wellbeing:

Benefit from comprehensive private healthcare and dental plans to keep you feeling your best. Enjoy enhanced company sick pay to support you during unforeseen moments.

Job Specification: Technical Project Manager
Reports to: Head of Projects
Date Updated: 19th March 2026

Job Specification

Growth & Development:

Access high-spec computers and software to excel both personally and professionally.

We are committed to your future with a generous pension plan for peace of mind.

Celebrate milestones through our long service reward scheme.

Benefit from continuous learning and development to advance your career.

The Role Details:

Reports To: Head of Projects

Schedule: Core Hours - Monday to Friday, 8am to 5pm, with flexibility required for evening & weekend working

Location: Borehamwood (25min from central London)

Salary: £50 - £60k p/a Dependent on experience

Holiday: 30 Days including Bank Holidays